

Miss Charlotte D. Thomson Is Bride of Johan L. Iserbyt

Special to The New York Times

PEAPACK, N. J., Sept. 26—Miss Charlotte Deyer Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Samuel Thomson of Mendham, was married this afternoon to Johan Louis Iserbyt. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerard Iserbyt-Thienpont of Courtrai, Belgium. The Rev. Francis Coan performed the ceremony in St. Brigid's Roman Catholic Church.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. David Woodruff Romig, as matron of honor, and Miss Patricia Clark, as maid of honor. Victoria and Ella Romig, her nieces, were flower girls.

The bride wore a long gown of eggshell peau de soie and a tulle veil caught with a rosette. Her bouquet combined lilies of the valley, spray orchids and stephanotis.

John Farrel Hughes, uncle of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Iserbyt was graduated from Dana Hall and the Katharine Gibbs School. She has served with the American Red Cross on Guam and in Japan, with the State Department in Washington and with the United States Foreign Service in the Republic of South Africa
